

I feel that for any NJ citizen who chooses to be on the DO NOT CALL LIST has every right to do so since the opportunity is there. I for one haven't signed up for it yet. I have thinking about putting myself on the list for some time. I have a feature on my phone that is called CALL INTERCEPT and I feel that prevents Telemarketers for getting through to speak with anyone in my home. Call Intercept is not good for everyone, due to the fact that you may not get some collect phone calls to go through to your line or possibly any other calls of that nature or of telemarketers. Call Intercept is designed to have the party calling identify themselves in order to get the person receiving the call to accept or deny the call. Sometime in the future I can see myself signing up for the DO NOT CALL LIST. Some people are just annoyed with the phone calls and just do not want to be bothered. I think the DO NOT CALL LIST shouldn't be weakened or even discontinued due to some telemarketers wanting to make sells or qoutas. The average person works hard all day long and is not looking forward to coming home to answering annoying phone calls. They rather spend that time with their families.
